Invincton.—The Christian Messenger, printed at this growing young village, says:

"All things considered, Irvington is a desirable country room, being only two and a half miles from Newark, and connected with it by a model plankrood. It has been thought that villages near the city, on the line of railroads, were more desirable that on there, but experiment gives evidence that for two or three miles travel only, combines are preferred. The people of Omnge, only shout the same distance from Newark that Irvington is, have gette generally abandoned the ears for stages, and have just raised about $10,000, and put in operation a line of soluddit omnibuses running nearly every hour in the day, with fare $39 per cent cheaper than railroad fare—only ten cents. We learn that this stage line has shout one hundred commuters who probably ride at still lower rates. Omnibus lines near the cities must and will unquestionably succeed, and especially in this direction.

"New buildings are continually going up on the plankroad, between our place and Newark. New York lies in full view on citer day, which adds to the beautiful landerage. Newark Bay strates the attention of the stranger, and the vessels of various kinds which are continually gliding over its surface, and Bergen hill on the cast side, makes the whole sence compare well with the beautiful country residences that any land can be accupied by men of means and indusnos, and some of them far femed. Of this class is Capt. Nye of the late steamship Pacific, when the part of the stage that the time she started on the fasal trip."

Poor Soil.—An inquisitive Yankee was standing at a tavern door, in the lower part of Jersey, watching a funeral pass by. At the head of it was a large manure oart, moving along very slowly, and making ne effort to furn out for the procession. The Yankee was astonished at this want of attention on the part of the driver of said cart, and turning to a Philadelphian who was standing by, he remarked:

"I guess the folks ain't very perhite absout here; ta hum, where I live, they always turn out for a funeral."

'Oh, that's part of the procession," remarked the

"Oh, that's part of the procession, remarked the Philadelphian, gravely.
"Du tell: Yeou don't say so! Heow!" exclaimed the astonished Yankee.
"Why, you see, it is a very poor, sandy soil about here, and nothing comes up they plant, unless they manure it well; so, when they bury a fellow, they throw a whole cart-load in the grave, to make him rise at the judgment day!"
The Yankee mizzled.

INJURED BY A HORSE.—A little girl 3 years of age, coughter of Patrick O'Neal, residing in Newark avenue, Jersey City, was seriously, and it is feared fatalty injured on Wednesday morning, by being stepped on by a horse. She was playing near the horse, and accidentally falling, the horse etopped upon and created the rarm in such a matner as to make amputation necessaries.

THE STREET COMMISSIONERSHIP.
Charles Deviln agt. The Mayor, &c., of New York.
This morning Mr. Stillwell, coursel for Deviln, applied for an order requiring Edward Cooper, the new Street Commissioner, to show cause on Saturday why an injunction shall not be granted to restrain him from taking possession of the Street Commissioner's office or any of the property appertaining to it. The complaint and affidavit upon which the application was based, set forth substantially the same propositions upon which Mayor Tiemann was ordered to show cause, and it is intended that both questions shall be argued at the same time.

JACOB H. MOTT TO BE EXAMINED ON SUPPLEMENTARY FROCKEDINGS.

Mesers. Buckman, Sundee & Green, representing a creditor of Jacob H. Mott, this morning applied for an attachment against the latter for contempt in not attending to be examined on supplementary proceedings.

The Judge denied the application, saying that Mr. Mott was in Eldridge street Jail, and if they wanted his attendance, they might sue out a writ of habeas corpus, giving the necessary ecurity that he should not secape.

As the amount of security required would be very large, counced declined to adopt this course, and the Judge suggested a reference to have Mott examined in Jail, to which they assented The Judge appointed Richard C. Beamish, esq., as Referee for such purpose.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Argit, 22.—Before Judge Ingersont...
De Forest at. Redfield.

This was a suit to recover an excess of duties exacted on an invoice of goods imported from Forto Rico. The invoices were made in the currency of Forto Rico, called Managita, the value of which was fixed by royal ordinance at 112 cents per dollar, but which, it was alleged, was worth only a United States mover, in this case, valued the Porto Rico money at the rate of 168 cents to the United States mover. The Collector, however, in this case, valued the Porto Rico money at the rate of 168 cents to the United States dollar, being only 8 per sent less value than the 100 cents of the American jor, in other words, that the American dollar was worth only 8 per cent over the Macagina coin. The importer, however, insisted that there was a difference of 12 per cent, instead of only 8 per cent, in favor of the American dollar.

of the American dollar.

In repty it was alleged that under the law of 1798 the Secretary of the Treasury fixed the relative value of the money at 3 instead of 12j cents less than the American dollar, and that the Collector was bound by that sufficiely to set as he did. A verdet was taken for the plaintiff, subject to the opinion of the Court, for the amount, being about $4,000.

FROM THE RIO GRANDE.

By the arrival of the steamship General Rusk from Brazos Santiago at New-Orleans, on the 15th, we have two weeks' later intelligence from the Rio Grande.

The prisoners in Brownsville jail, fifteen in number, made their escape. Great consternation was caused in Brownsville, on the night of the 1st inst., by the receipt of intelligence that a party of nine Indians had attacked a party of herdsmen that day on Palo Alto prairie, and killed one of them, named Gaspar Glasvecke, a citizen of Brownsville. Pale Alto prairie is some twelve miles from that city. The Indians, after committing the murder, took a number of horses, mounted, and crossed over into Mexico. They were pursued and overtaken, and five of them killed, and the stolen horses all recovered. The pursuers were Mexicans from the American side, aided by the Mexican authorities.

The Brownwille Flag publishes a translation of the late decree declaring the Ri Grande frontier of Mexico open for the free introduction of goods of all kinds intended for consumption in the frontier towns. The decree embraces all the villages and towns on the decree embraces and the vinages and town on the river, as high up as the settlements extend, and also includes the important interior City of Monterey. The Flag remarks that the document, though signed only by the present Acting Governor of Tamauhupas, is understood to have been also approved by Gen. Vidanri, the Governor of the State of Nuevo Leon and Cashulla.

Vidanri, the Governor of the State of New York and Coahuila.

The Flag has received an extra of the Pueblo at Camargo, dated the 21st March, in which it finds letters from Col. Zuaza to Gov. Vidaurri, announcing the defeat of the Liberals, who, under Gens. Doblado and Parrodi, had been besieging the Resitionists at Celaya. The letters state that on the 13th and 14th the two forces met at a place called Salamanca, where, after some canonading, the Federal troops fied ingloriously, leaving only 4,000 or 5,000 men and 27 pieces with of artillery, from the 9,000 men and 27 pieces with the control states. which they entered the contest. The account states that the dispersion was great; and says that one of the commanders, Debaldo, wished to join the enemy, the commanders. Dobaldo, wished to join the enemy, and the other, Parrodi, to retire; at least 3,000 of the troops had gone over, though these were from the regular line. The letters state that the fortune of the regular line. The isters state that the followed it for country now depends upon the general support of the people of this frontier.

Late advices by express from Zacatecas had arrived,

Late advices by express from Zacatecas had arrived, bringing intelligence confirming the above account. Zacatecas was represented as still firm in the cause of the Liberals, and was looking anxiously to find what course would be adopted by the Northern States to remedy the unfortunate disaster attending the operations of Doblado and Parrodi. This express says the disaster was not so great as represented in the first accounts. In the conflict the loss in killed was not 100 men. From corruption, the old troops of the line field in disgrace, but the frontier citizen soldiers maintained nobly their fame for valor.

Gen. Carvajal, editor of the Parblo, sees the dawning of hope for the nationality of Mexico in this defeat. He has ever mistrusted the wisdom of intrasting the command of the army to Parrodi, whom he thinks wholly incompetent to command, and who has been ruinously consuming precious time in bombastic and rainously consuming precious time in bombastic and classical correspondence; in useless delay in marches and counter-marches, until the enemy, at first weak and counter-marches, until the enemy, at first weak and easy to defeat, had gained strength and time to sow the seeds of corruption in the racks of the army of the people. This mishap will now open the eyes of the nation, and lead it to select more competent com-manders. The Pueblo points with hope to the venera-ble Gen. Alvarez or to the more youthful and intrepid Degoliado. Doubtless, in the hands of one or the other of these generals, the dissatrons field of Sala-manca may be turned to alvantage.

10 La Crosse & Milw. RR The tone of the Stock Market was very dull at the norning's board, and there was but little disposition on the part of speculators to operate to any extent, either for the rise or fall. It was evident, however that prices had touched a substratum of firmness, and although quotations hung through the session at about the closing quotations of yesterday, there was an appearance of sluggish strength which indicated an improving tendency on a general scale. Since the decline in Eric yesterday, the stock has been more plentiful in the street, but the movements of the short interest are calculated to bring about the same scarcity again, as soon as the opposing party decide to take advantage of the peculiar condition of the market. The sales at the First Board show but slight variation in leading stocks, and the transactions were not large in any particular security. Reading was the most active, commencing at a decline of 1 4 cent, but improving at the second call to 461, at which point the market was firmer. Erie went at 14], and was steady, but not prominent in the operations. New-York Central, Rock Island and Galena were firm; but rather dull. Toledo declinei | V cent, and was rather heavy. Cumberland was tolerably firm, and the lots offered on seller's option were taken eadily. At the close of the call, the stock was in fair demand at a slight advance. After the adjournment, there was more movement among buyers, encouraged by the firm aspect of the market, and at the Second Board prices were decidedly better for most of the leading shares. Etie advanced to 254, and was quite firm Hudson, on moderate sales, went up to 31, but was a fraction lower at the close. Rock Island, from 75) in the morning, jumped up to 76; and Reading advanced to 47 with the same elastic step. The shorts on this stock have been somewhat startled during the day by its steadiness and increased strength, and be advance of this afternoon is probably influsiced to some extent by their purchases. Mil wankee and Mississippi was more active, and concluding sales advanced to 311. The whole market caught the improving impulse of the hour, and closed steady at the advance. Bond transactions have not been important. Good State and City securities are in demand, and firm, and there is a steady absorption of these descriptions which command public confidence as sound and reliable securities. We hear of large sales of Chicago 7s, in the street, at 97 | and interest, and the Jowa State 7 P cent Bonds, but recently sellisg at 163, are now quoted at 107. The spense-

lative aspect of the market is that of dulinees, but of latest strength which displays itself occasionally m feverish reactions from the hammering operations of the bears. Lacking any decided support from outside parties, the movements more likely to be stimulated from time to time, are those based upon the over sales of short stock, which are quite as effective in advancing prices temporarily as any general operations of the public; the only practical difference being that the public; the only practical uniteracte using that the lesses and gains are confined to a smaller circle. At the close of the day the prices were for Eric, 54; New-York Central, 894; Reading, 47; Toledo, 434; Rock Island, 754; Cumberland, 174; Hodson, 304; Michigan Southern, 241, &c.

The foreign bill market is dull for the Saturday steamer, and bills could not be sold to any extent at better than | # cent decline, say 108} for leading sterling. The supply of bills is considerable, and will be increased by the large movement in Cotton, which reaches 10,000 bales, giving some 90,000 lb to-day. The New-Orleans market by telegraph is reported easier at 1061 @ 108 P cent.

The business of the Clearing-House to-day was $17,488,579. The Metropolitan Certificates are $204,-60. The sale of 20,000 to 30,000 tune of Eoglish Cannel Coal, alluded to yesterday, was made at $5 75, and not $6 75, as printed. The Pernsylvania Central Railroad Company has made a dividend of 3 & cent. free of State tax, payable May 15. Treasury Notes continue in fair demand at 20 #30c. discount for the Three per Cents, and ? F cent premium for the Five per Cents. Silver Coin is so plentiful that Messrs. Trevor & Colgate advertise in another column to sell half and quarter dollars, in lots over one hundred dollars, at ic. P cent discount. An auction sale of French Goods to-day was largely attended, and the bidding animated. A sale of Millinery Goods also went off with spirit. The Cotton market had been much excited, with sales of 10,000 bales, mostly in transit, at an advance of | wic. $\varphi$ lb. Breadstuffs are drooping, very large amounts are on the way to market from Western shipping ports.

Albert H. Nicolay's regular daily auction sale of stocks and bends will take place to-morrow (Fri-day), at 121 o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange. S. Draper's daily auction sale of bonds and stocks will take place to-morrow (Friday), at 12; o'clock, at the Merchants' Exchange. The following is a statement of the earnings of the fred Conkling and Ebenezer Jackson have given cer- tificates that, in their opinion, the bonds are amply se-

The Utica Telegraph says:

"To induce the old crop to come forward, and make room for the new, our leading railroads have just been reducing their taritis.

'The Illinois Central Railroad, we understand, will reduce their tariff on grain about 20 $\psi$ cent.

"The Chicago and Rock Island Railroad Company have determined to transport grain destined for Chicago market, at a reduction of from 2 to 5 cents $\psi$ 100 lb. until June 1.

"The Chicago Regiment and Onion Patients.

Ib. until June 1.
"The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad announce that they have reduced their freight tariff on nounce that they have reduced their resign takin wheat and corn from now till 1st of June next, from 2 to 5 cents $\tilde{v}$ 100 lb.

"The charges on the Lakes have also been reduced. To this add reduction of tolls on the New-York Canals, and we think we are justified in looking forward to a lively and prosperous season," A correspondent of the Mexican Extraordinary calls upon the Government and the capitalists of Mexico to consider the rare opportunity which is now offered for the cultivation of cotton throughout that Republic. He states that all on the seaboard, from Yucatan to Brazos Santiago, thousands of acres suitable for its culture exist; but the points more peculiarly applicable, he says, are those between the bar of Tampico and be says, are those between the bar of Tampico and that of Brazos Santiago, and the rich alluvial toils which border the two noble rivers, the Pauro and the Tamesi. The class of cotton which grows uncultivated there has been pronounced by capable judges from Louisians of excellent quality. The two rivers join in front of Tampico. The Tamesi is represented as much like the Alabama and is navigable up to Tancasheque. The Pauroc is navigable for a much creater distance, and although not so picturesque as greater distance, and, although not so picturesque as the Tamesi, is not less fertile. The Indians of the Huasceta, he thinks, might easily be trained to labor.

The Courrier des Etats Unis says that a report has been presented to the Emperor Napoleon by the Minister of War, who proposes to give M. Colonna de Cinaron the annual prize of 20,000 francs, instituted since 1853, for the promotion of the culture of cotton in Algiers. The report of the jury charged with the decision in this concours is published in full in the report of the Minister of War. Notwithstanding the untoward meteorological phenomena, the culture of cotton has made much progress, more particularly in the eastern and western provinces, while the province of Algiers is more and more given to the culture of tobacco. The number of Arabian planters is fast increasing, and, in the eastern province, they have, of eight premiums, The Independent reports the Dry Goods trade as

"Business is evidently improving. There were not so many goods crowded at the auction rooms last wack as in the preceding week, but prices were better. The new styles and goods of French importation seem exclusively offered at public auction. The supply habeen restricted, while the activity of demand runs altogether on the new goods, of which prices are firm and renunerative. Last year's goods of all kinds are in over-stock, and sell badly. There is a great run on incont robes. Fine black silks are wanted, but inferior onalities are depressed. rior qualities are depressed.

"At private sale there is a moderate business doing in staple silks, but sales are not to the u-ual extent this season. A larger business is looked for in May, Second orders for Spring goods are coming from the West and the South which looks well. Orders are going out more freely for foreign goods to arrive in the Fall. There are symptoms of an increased importa-tion then. Many buyers went to Europe by the Pertion then. Many buyers went to Europe by the Persin—the first very large flight for a very long time past. In weekens there is a fair demand. New famy cassimers of Spring styles—coatings, vestings, alpacas, Italian cloths, and German cloths—are coming in at lower rates. The stock of old importations of lowpriced Winter woolens is very great, and will prevent a very heavy importation of such for the Pall trade."

"In demestic goods also more has been done of late.
The new styles of Spring and Summer goods are in market. Wool is low in price, and insures a supply of woolen goods at reduced prices. The mild Winter has been unfavorable to all heavy woolens, and has left a great deal of stock on hand, on which a heavy sacrifice will have to be made, especially as the cost of production is falling. Cotton goods are firm. The raw material is steady and not likely to be lawer, while the manufacturers are short of stock, and have yet to make large purchases to keep their mills at work. Prints of new style are coming into market, and are of ready sale. There is quite a movement in American lawns, and sales are large."

An adjourned second meeting of the creditors of Charles H. Mills & Co., was held in the Court of Charles H. Mills & Co., was held in the Court of Insolvency of Boston on Tuesday, and claims to the amount of $114,500 were approved and allowed making the aggregate of claims thus far approved, in round numbers, $574,500. The second meeting was closed, and due notice will be given of the time for the third meeting.
